SENIORS

To the Graduating Class of 1971,

During the four years of your attendance at Clifford J. Scott High School, you have seen many changes and have accumulated many memories of those years. We, the Executive Board of the 1971 Tartan, have spent several months compiling the events of your last and most cherished year into the 1971 Tartan.

Some of these events you may not remember while others will be as clear within your mind as though they were occurring at this precise moment. But the people who are pictured as taking part in these occurrences will stir within you memories of the days and years gone by. They will always remain, for you, young and laughing and sometimes serious. So we ask you to turn this page and begin a journey back through time.

She walks in beauty

On May 15, 1970 you held your Junior Prom; the theme of which was "The Sea of Tranquility." And tranquility was the atmosphere present that night.

From all the lovely girls present, the judges chose as queen, June Hardcastle and as her attendants, Debbie Davis, Sherry Howard, Thelma Munford and Sally Peters. In future years when the Sea of Tranquility is mentioned, you will remember, in addition to the first landing on the moon, a prom which was held on May 15, 1970.

The fleeting moments of your first years at Scott, the moments when all seemed so distant and yet was so near and the memories of those moments—the memory of yourself, as a freshman, looking about you with timidity and wonder for all was new, the memory of yourself as a sophomore and as a junior when so much had grown old—will live always with you though tomorrow brings new and better things.

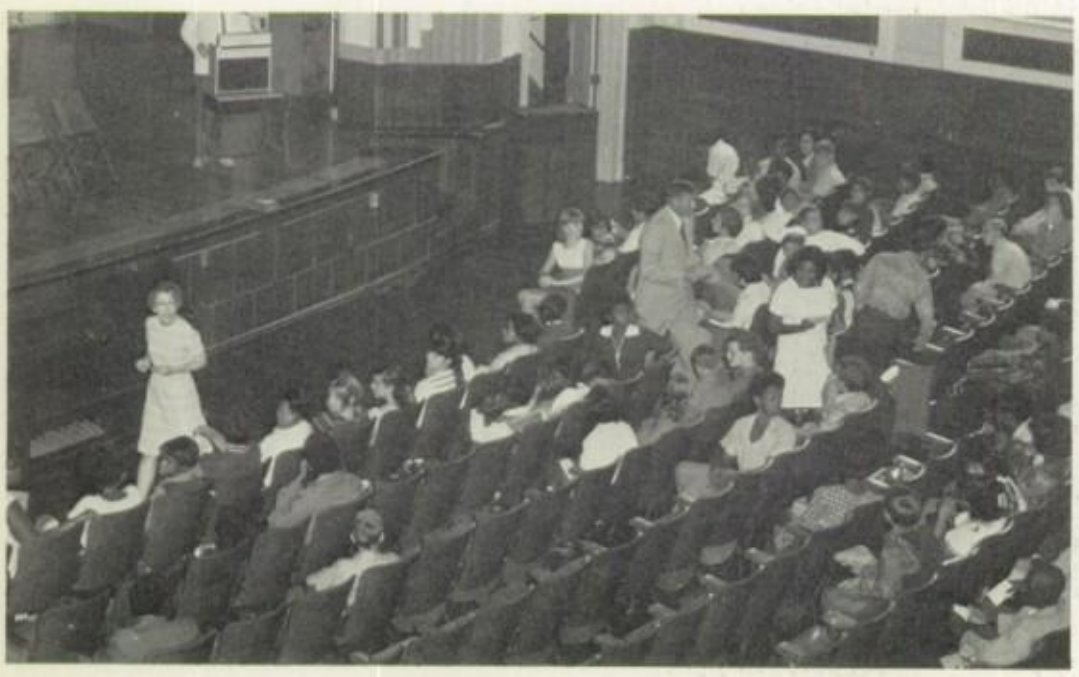
JUNE 15, 1970: Senior Day

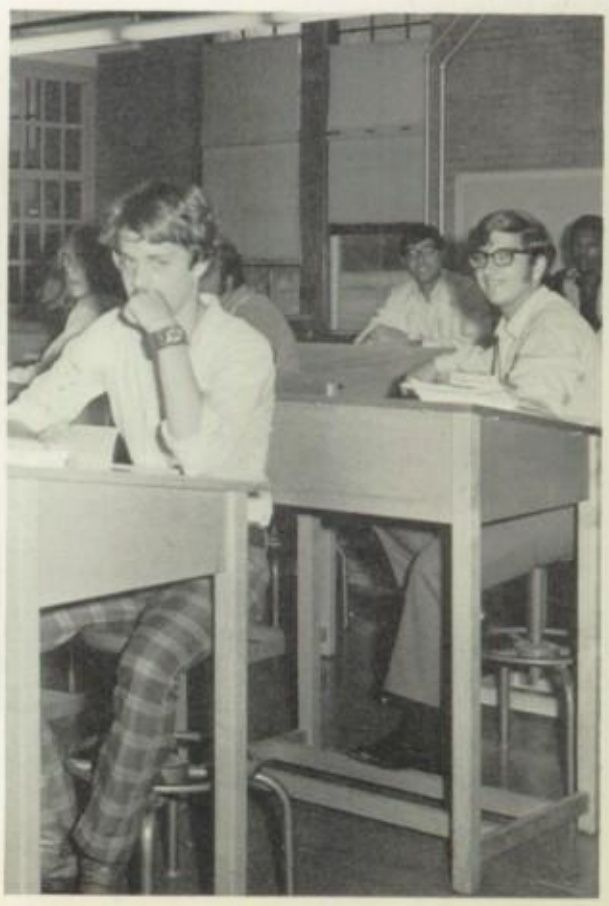
JUNE 19, 1970: Graduation

Back to the Ol' grind.

"and she said . . ."

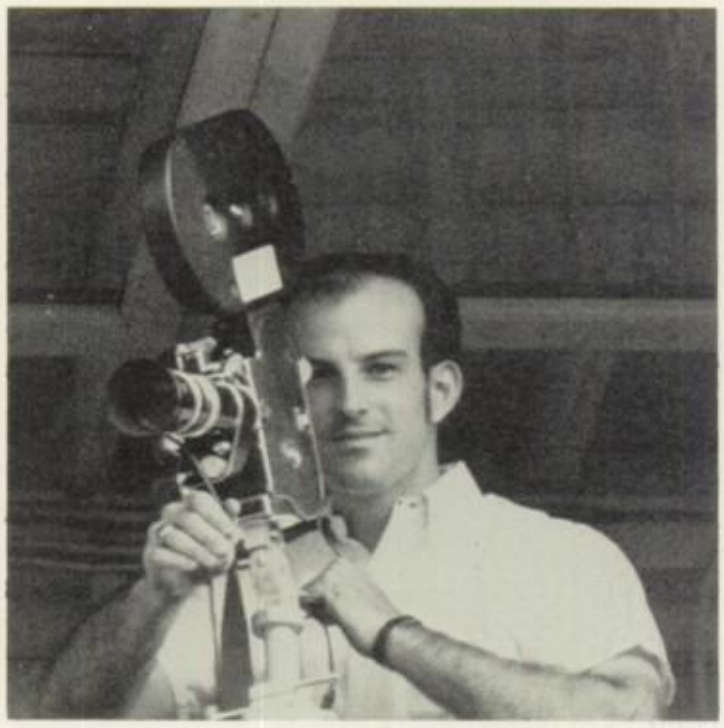


Mass Confusion



I pledge Allegiance . . .

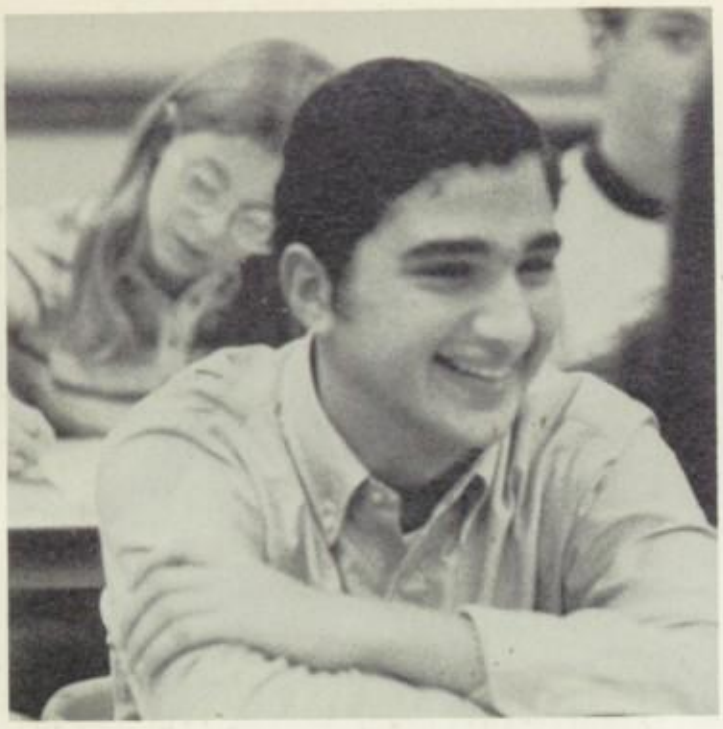
"Go to it!"



Merry Christmas!

Pepsodent smile

Who ever heard of a partridge in a pear tree?

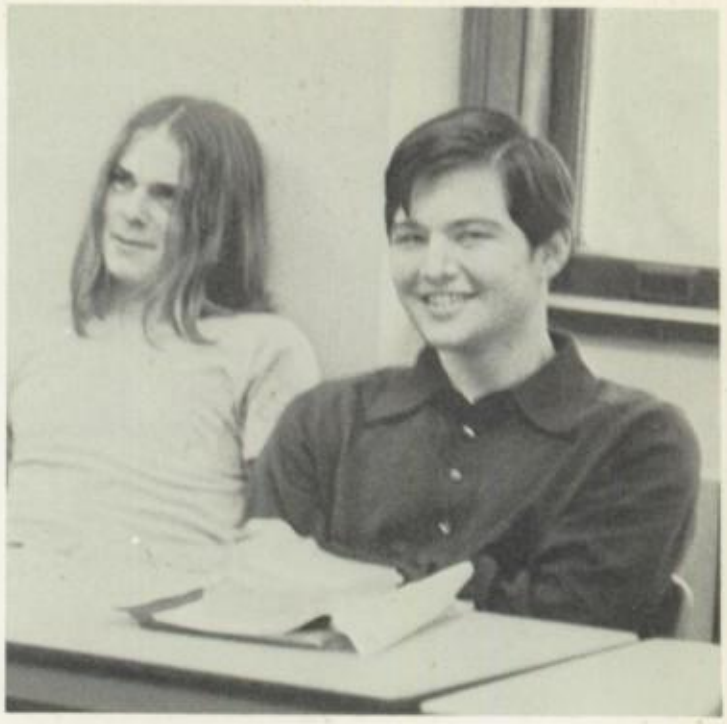


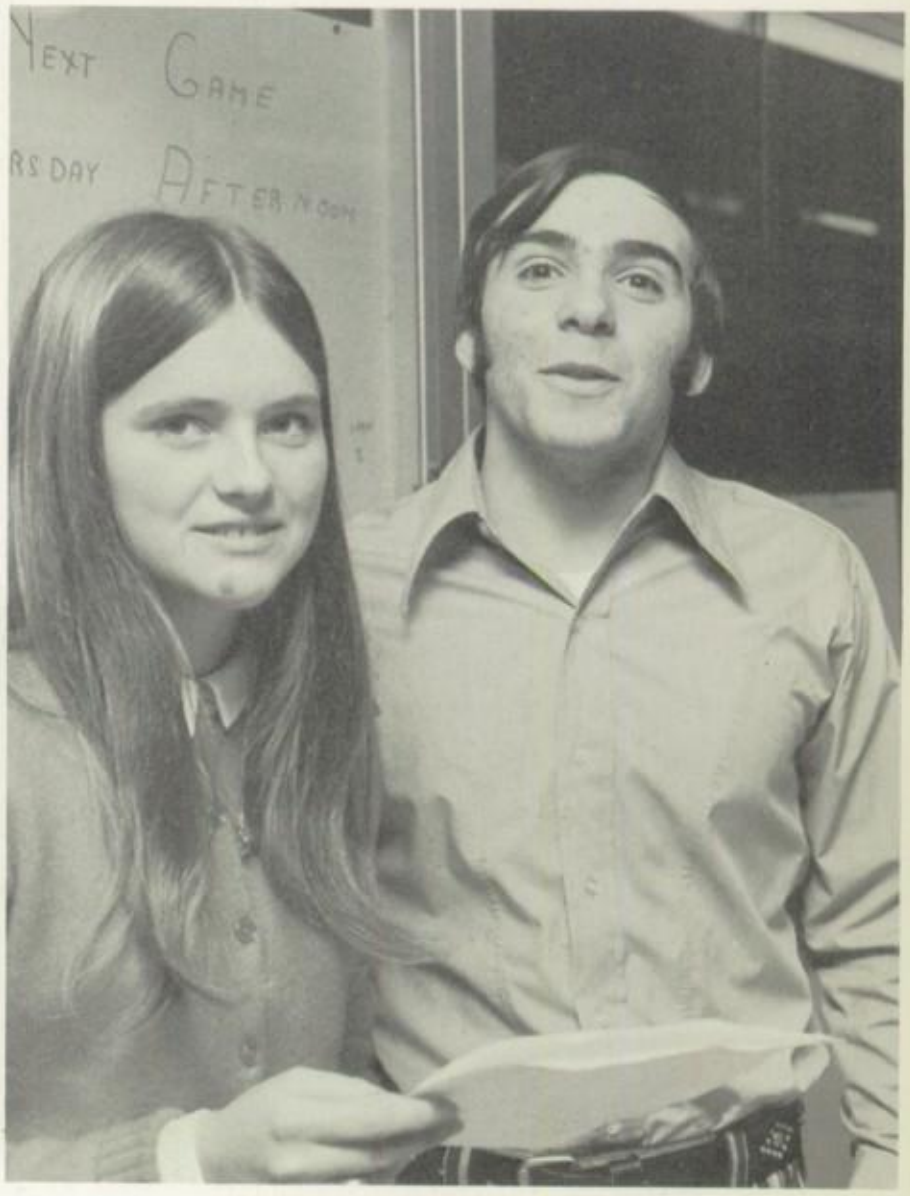
Genius at work!

What's so funny?

"What now?"

Hurry, here he comes!

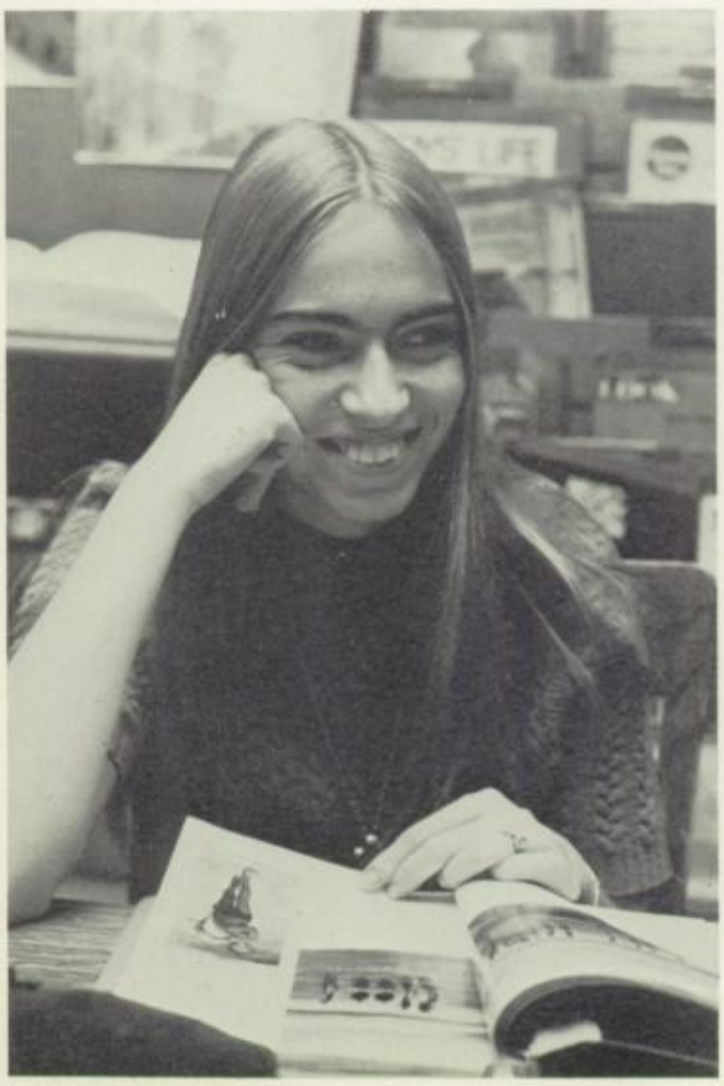




Caught in the act!

"Voilà!"

What is she up to now?



What's so interesting?

A damsel in distress?

Curlers in your hair— shame on you.

Smile! You're on candid camera.

Michael Since you live
two doors down from me, I think you are a PRETTY

The memories will fade
into the recesses of your minds
and darken as the day.
But in the distance
there is a shimmer of light glowing for you
and those who will follow.
